Blowin' the Horn...

Pam Wynn's work "Spirit of the Southwest" was one of 25 step by step projects presented in "Polymer Pizzazz2", a collection of projects from Art Jewelry and Bead & Button magazines. This book features 17 nationally known polymer artists and details Pam's clay beads that we all know and love. Book is available at Barnes and Noble.

Seed beads or Delicas- 2 colors the same size- 11's or 8's whatever you are comfortable working with

Needles and thread sized for your beads

Scissors, work surface, task light and magnifiers if needed.

Take a look at our "Beading Basics" sheet that is on the website for more information (hit the newsletter button on the home page)

Kathy Kim will return to help us finish up our beaded flowers from last month as well.

July's class will be a copper bracelet taught by Becky Adkins

Looking Forward to Our Retreat...

We'll be heading down to Destin again for the ECBS Annual Bead Retreat, February 3,4&5, 2012

We are an inquisitive bunch, always looking for new bead horizons to conquer. If you have a skill you would like to share and have not volunteered before, please consider teaching at the retreat. For details, contact Nettie Varnell ; 479-3963 or wolfwoman@cox.net

Show Notes...

Thank you everyone for another great show!

Another successful show is over- time to pat everyone's back! The ECBS bead and jewelry show truly earns it's reputation in Pensacola. The talent of our members is well known and proudly on display twice each year at the Wright place.

We would especially like to thank our volunteers- Nettie Varnell who always comes through, and Helen Hunter who was everywhere for anyone who needed help!

Carolyn Jones is a whiz with our advertising, and the lovely Mary Jordan always does such a marvelous job with all the many details. We're looking forward to doing it again in December.
